Crystal Ball

Published monthly by the National Cambridge Collectors, Inc. to encourage and report the discovery of the elegant and boundless product of the Cambridge Glass Company of Cambridge, Ohio

Issue No. 181

CLEAN, UNCLUTTERED WINDOW DISPLAY concentrates on letting Sparkling Switchabouts tell their own sales story. Low table in foreground shows (1) basic crystal pieces that make up the line, (2) units priced at $3.50 to $8.98 that customers can buy already made up. Table in background shows customers other arrangements they can make for themselves, proves how Switchabouts dress up dining room table.

THOUGHTS from your President

With nice weather arriving in our area, the outdoor flea markets, yard sales and garage sales are springing up all over. Most of these no longer arouse my curiosity.

Remember fifteen or so years ago when you could go to a local flea market or yard sale and find all sorts of good collectable items, including glass, pottery, silver or whatever? Things sure have changed. Either decent items are very scarce or everyone is holding on to them. In our area most of the flea markets and yard sales are stocked with items that ordinarily would end up in the landfill. With the high cost of disposing of these items at the landfill, everyone just has a yard sale to try to get rid of things. I'm serious! I know this isn't true in all parts of the country, but it seems to be the case around here.

Did all of you check out the Auction results in your last issue of the CRYSTAL BALL? Got an education didn't you? Well, auctions per se are usually like that. Many items sell for much less than they are worth and some go for much higher than their real value. I suppose it all averages out though.

All of you should have received your Raffle tickets in the last issue of your news-letter. Please try to sell your book of tickets or purchase it yourself, so we can make this endeavor a success. Don't forget that you can order more books of tickets by sending your request to the N.C.C. address. If you are local (Cambridge area) you can stop in at the Museum and pick up extra books.

It looks like Mark has come up with a very interesting and fun filled Convention for you this year. There shouldn't be too many dull moments during the weekend. There should still be time for all of you to volunteer at least an hour of your time at the Show gate, book sales table, and display room - or any other activities that will need volunteers. Get your reservations in early - PLEASE! This will be a great help to Mark and all involved in getting the final planning complete. When everything is left until the last minute things can get pretty hectic. Remember that Mark's planning began last year right after the '87 Convention and doesn't stop until the '88 Convention is over. It's a lot of work. Let's all try to make it easier for him.

The Museum is, of course, open and now with the weather changing for the better we will be doing work outside to spruce it up a bit. Charlie Upton had the place looking like a golf course last year, but with other commitments this year, he probably won't be able to spend such long hours out there. We'll have to take up the slack. At least we will have our own riding mower now that was donated by Marjorie and Roger Seaton.

Ballots and resumes of the candidates for the Board of Directors are included in this issue. Don't forget to mark your ballot(s) and return to N.C.C.

See you at Convention '88!

"HIGHLIGHTING" puts the extra sparkle in

Cambridge etchings

. . . provides the "plus" for extra sales

"Highlighting" is an exclusive technique developed by Cambridge to give etched designs greater brilliance, more life and beauty than ordinary frosted etchings. Discerning customers can note the magnificent difference at a glance. Always give your Cambridge Etchings a chance to "show off" in your glassware department and bridal shopping center . . . for increased sales of this fine American hand-made crystal. Nationally advertised.

Cambridge in the 1950s

PART I

by MARK A. NYE

The theme of this year's N.C.C. Convention is "Cambridge and the 1950s." For the next several months, my monthly article will be devoted to some aspect of this topic. This month we will take a look at what Cambridge was doing during the years 1950-54 by means of articles or paid company advertising in the two trade journals, China, Glass and Decorative Accessories and Crockery and Glass Journal.

"Cambridge Arms ---clever, fastdecoselling rative table accessories in fine American hand-made crystal. They are the saleshit of every glassware department, these sensational new 'Cambridge Arms' crystal decorations for table and buffet! Units shown in sketch below interlock and can be combined in no less than thirty beautiful, inexpensive centerpieces -- each one different! Simple demonstration sells 'Cambridge er! Immediate

"They're as simple as ABC . . .

"New at Cambridge Glass is the 'Esquire' line of 'stemware without stems,' with crystal bowls and feet of crystal, ebony, emerald, carmine or amber, to retail at $18 per dozen. Very modern, too, is the 'Ebony' line of vases, bowls, and ash trays, candlesticks, etc. And the figure cocktail and cordial glasses are back with the crystal figure in the foot and bowl in amber, emerald, amethyst or mandarin gold, to retail at $1.50 apiece. Cambridge, too, has just brought out a stemware cutting to match its 'Ivy' flatware, a beautiful pattern of polished and unpolished cut with mitered cutting near the base, to retail at $38 per dozen." C,G&DA - Mar. 1950.

"A new line of ruby stemware, with bowls of clear deep red on crystal stems, is being shown by Cambridge Glass Company, Room 1547 in the Mart. A liquor set in the same ruby color has little round glasses and the jug is finished with a round crystal stopper. The liquor set is priced to retail at $6, and the stemware at $18 per dozen. A set of miniature vases, 50-cent sellers, come in four different colors, light and dark amber, emerald and amethyst, and in four different shapes. 'Rosalind' is the name of a delicate new etched pattern inspired by a climbing rose. The stemware retails at $1.60 each, and there are matching square salad plates and a complete line of matching tableware. The 'Aurora' line of goblets now comes in crystal as well as in several colors. This optic goblet with blown bowl and pressed stem and foot, retails at $1.25. New items have been added to the lovely, clear 'Pristine' line, including a handblown tort plate retailing at $5.95, a handpolished rose bowl at $1.60, a new jug and a nite set consisting of glass and pitcher." C,G&DA - Aug. 1950.

"'Highlighting' puts the extra sparkle in Cambridge etchings . . . . . " (Author's note: This quote appears on page 5 in the full page advertisement that first appeared in the Oct. 1950 issue of C,G&DA.)

The May 1950 issue of Crockery and Glass had a feature written by Merey Dobell entitled "Here's how to sell more stemware" and it was illustrated with photographs taken in the New York showrooms of Cambridge Glass Company. The text of that feature is reprint-

"Polish up on your selling technique. Check your demonstration methods against the ten proven ways that are pictured here.

Hold crystal, pastel or deep-toned glassware toward the light. Invite your customer to note the clear sparkle of the crystal and the even brilliance of tinted or deep toned stemware.

Sell more stemware by letting your customer see how it looks on a table. Show it with harmonious china and other table appointments. Have table settings of leading patterns set up.

Show your customer that the design she is selecting is an open stock pattern. Tell her it means she can replace broken glasses; can build her set by adding pieces from time to time.

If the stemware is the work of a famous maker, point out the maker's name or trademark. Explain that the name stands for quality and beauty and has nationwide recognition for excellence.

Hand a glass to your customer. Invite her to feel its balance, call her attention to shape of bowl, stem, foot; how each harmonizes with the other. Stress ease of grasping and holding.

Invite your customer to run her finger around the edge of glass. Explain that the edges are processed to make them chip resistant or what ever is the feature of the particular glass you show her.

Coordinate stemware with dinnerware. Show simple stemware if customer's service is elaborate, decorated stemware if dinnerware is unadorned, special glass to accompany certain chinaware.

Point out the beauty and daintiness of etching or cutting. Call attention to grace of design and perfection of workmanship. If designed by a well-known artist, stress the fact.

Tap edge of lead glass with your fingernail or a pencil. Invite the customer to note the sustained, clear bell-like tone. Glass of lime gives off a hollow ping with little ring.

After the sale, show other pieces in matching design or color to complete set. If she bought stemware, show bowls, compotes and serving dishes to lend personality to her setting."

"50th year Cambridge Fine Glass Making -- 'America's Best!' That's how Life Magazine lists Cambridge crystal, one of but two brands to be so honored. A timely and most welcome tribute as we come to the close of our first half century. It is satisfying to look back over 50 years during which, with your able selling help, Cambridge has become the favored Crystal in millions of American homes. It is more satisfying to look to the years ahead, to plan for even bigger and better business....for more beautiful designs and finer quality at prices that will always enable you to offer your customers 'America's Best' in fine hand-made crystal. Thanks to you for the past. You can count on us for the future. -- The Cambridge Glass Company, Cambridge, Ohio" C,G&DA - Feb. 1951.

"... clear to see it's Caprice that's caught her eye! ... as it's doing with millions like her through the powerful pages of (Ladies Home Journal, Better Homes and Gardens, Living). No question about it. Cambridge's ever popular Caprice takes the ladies 'eyes.' Its swirling brilliance ... its matchless grace ... its honest invitation to use it, enjoy it every day, mark it a steady best seller you'll want to feature! Especially right now when three of America's leading women's magazines are carrying sales-boosting Caprice advertisements! How's your stock of Caprice? Order or re-order today. ... fine American hand-made crystal by Cambridge." C,G&DA - June 1951.

"... on the square ... Cambridge will present at the Pittsburgh China & Glass Show one of the most distinctive new crystal shapes ever created by American Glassmakers. It is a pattern aloof from the conventional -- an ultra-smart, imaginative design brilliant with the beauty of flawless crystal and astir with the mood of the times. ... You are cordially invited to see this exciting new pattern at room 101-103 in the William Penn Hotel. On the square ... we believe you will like it." C,G&DA - Dec. 1951.

"The popular Cambridge Square Accessory line which Cambridge Glass Co., Cambridge, Ohio, introduced at the Pittsburgh show will appear again in July in many new serving and decorative items. The accessory line had been coordinated originally with the successful shape of Cambridge Square stemware.

Its sleek modern lines, featuring the handmade look, have made it such a hit that it is only natural that Cambridge designers would plan more items in this line.

show is a new Cambridge Square cigarette set packaged in a beautiful white take-home gift box. Consisting of a handsome cigarette urn and two ashtrays, the set will be an approximate $2 retailer." C&G - July 1952.

"A new addition to the CAMBRIDGE GLASS line is 'Cambridge Heirloom.' A combination of plain and blocked surfaces in hand-pressed glassware. Representative retail prices in the line which included stemware, tumblers, and serving pieces are: $2.80 for a 12-1/2 inch platter, $2.50 for a creamer and sugar. Also new is 'Magnolia,' an etched floral design available in both flatware and stemware." C,G&DA - Feb. 1953.

"BLACK VELVET IN GLASS! Never before a black glass like ultra-smart Ebon! Its velvety mat finish has a lustrous sheen unique in fine glassware. Its distinctive modern lines and square-cut base are direct descendents of justly popular Cambridge Square. Ebon has been a top hit with buyers at the shows. You can expect it to be an even bigger attraction on retail shelves, as its 20 smart shapes give customers new ideas for gift-giving and for their own discriminating use. Immediate

by MARK A. NYE 1988 Convention Chairman

* * * REGISTRATION INFORMATION * * *

Enclosed with this issue is your CONVENTION REGISTRATION FORM. The deadline for registration is June 13; that is, your Registration must have been received by that date! Please, carefully read the Registration Form, supply the information requested, and return it as soon as possible.

If at all possible, please write your membership number on the Registration Form. The computer program used in the registration process stores registration information using your membership number. If it is not provided, it must be looked up (a time consuming process) or a dummy number, used and this is not a satisfactory solution. This year, everyone whose Registration bears a May postmark will be eligible for a drawing to win a second 1988 Convention Souvenir, so Register early!

As you will notice upon reading the Registration Form, the only increase in price is for the Friday night session and this reflects a change from the previous "snack buffet" to a complete meal. While the exact menu for Friday night has yet to be determined, it will most likely be a cold plate type meal and will not be a buffet. The total Convention package comes to $36 per person, not expensive when you consider this includes four meals and the Antique Show!

You must Register for the Thursday Night Party even though there is no charge. An admission ticket is required to attend and we do need to know how many to plan for.

* * * DISPLAY ROOM - HELP NEEDED * * *

Don't forget, we need glass for the Display Room. Please send your list today. When you bring glass to the display room, it must be labeled with your name and be accompanied by a list showing value for insurance purposes. All glass on loan to the club for display purposes is insured.

* * * AUCTIONS - SILENT & MINI * * *

We also need donations for the Silent Auction on Thursday night and for the Mini-Auction (not so silent) on Friday night. For Thursday night, a piece of 1950s Cambridge glass would be appropriate. Friday night is a different story! Anything that will raise money for NCC is fair game, but the emphasis should remain on Cambridge glass. Just think back to our previous Mini-Auctions and surely you will be inspired to donate an unusual item!

* * * BANQUET - CONSOLE SETS * * *

And, as always, we need console sets or bowls of any size, and candleholders for use in decorating the tables for the Saturday night Banquet. Since the theme of the Convention is the 1950s, patterns from the 1950s is the preferred choice, but any Cambridge glass will be acceptable. There is, waiting in the wings, a stack of plastic bowls which will be used should we ever fail to have enough glass loaned! Please, don't make us use plastic on NCC Convention Banquet tables!

* * * MOTEL RESERVATIONS * * *

Motel reservations, regardless of where you plan on staying, should be made soon. The Shenandoah Inn and the in-town motels do fill up in advance, so to avoid not having the site of your choice, or worse, no room, make your reservations early.

* * * MUSEUM - WORK PARTIES * * *

We do plan to have work parties at the storage building during the week preceding the Convention. If you are interested in coming to Cambridge early and donating some time and muscle, please let us know when you would be available by dropping a line to: Convention Work Parties, P.O. Box 416, Cambridge, OH 43725. For the most part, the work won't be clean and will involve varying degrees of physical labor, but it must be done! What is involved is sorting and identifying the various tools and molds acquired during the Imperial liquidation. All are dirty and rusty and must be partially cleaned in order to find identifying marks. We will need help in transcribing the information as it becomes available - if you are not up to the physical labor, you can still help by performing this vital function.

* * * N.C.C. BIRTHDAY PARTY * * *

Another reminder, Friday night is the N.C.C. Birthday Party. See the April CRYSTAL BALL for details. -- See you in two months!

JUNE 1988 -- CAMBRIDGE or BUST!

NOMINEES FOR BOARD

Your 1988 Nominating committee presents for your consideration, the following resume for each nominee seeking to be elected to your Board of Directors. The three (3) elected will serve on this Board for the next four (4) years, until 1992. They are listed here alphabetically. Please follow the instructions on your Ballot(s) attached to this issue of your Cambridge CRYSTAL BALL (May 1988) in casting your vote.

CYNTHIA A. ARENT: Cindy became a member of N.C.C. in March 1986. Since becoming a member, she has attended all Quarterly meetings, conventions, etc. She and her husband Mike have spent many hours this past year in the NCC Service Building sorting and recording the hundreds of gages that were obtained from Imperial at the time of their liquidation. Cindy's interest in Cambridge goes back to her childhood when she used to visit the old Cambridge Glass Plant where her mother and three aunts were employed. One of those aunts just happens to be Mary Martha Mitchell, long-time Secretary to Cambridge Glass Company President, A. J. Bennett.

Cindy was born and raised in Cambridge, Ohio. She is a graduate of Cambridge High School and Ohio State University, with a B.S. in Education. She has received Continuing Education credits hours from Muskingum College and Indiana/Purdue University. During high school and college, she worked summers as a life guard at Salt Fork State Park. She served as a member of the teaching staff of Rolling Hills School District, Byesville, Ohio for ten years; and is currently First Grade teacher at Beech Grove Elementary School, Rolling Hills School District.

Cindy and her husband Mike have been married for five years and reside near Cambridge, with their pet beagle Rosie. They are members of the First Presbyterian Church, Cambridge, Ohio; and Cindy is a member of Delta Cappa Gamma (Teaching Sorority), Ohio Education Association, and National Education Association. Other interests include visiting auctions, flea markets, antique shows; and participating in hobbies of swimming, boating and skiing.

Their Cambridge collecting interests began when Mike purchased a Caprice bowl in moonlight blue for Cindy, about five years ago. Their primary collection now consists of crown tuscan, but their collecting habits are rapidly expanding. Cindy's prized possession is a #3778 Rock Crystal dinner set with early Ambassador engraving, given to her by her mother.

MARYBELLE MOOREHEAD: Marybelle became a member of NCC in December 1974, and was elected to the N.C.C. Board of Directors in June 1984. She was a charter member of the Cambridge Squares Study Group, and has served on several N.C.C. committees, including: Convention, Museum, Display Room and in 1987 and 1988 she has filled the position of Flea Market chairman. She has also served as Sergeant-At-Arms for the past four years.

Marybelle was born and lived her entire life in Cambridge, Ohio. She is a graduate of Cambridge High School and the Carnegie Institute, Cleveland, Ohio, where she received training as an X-ray Technician. She has been employed by the Cambridge School system for the past seventeen years and presently holds the position of Satellite Cook. She and her husband Charles are proud grandparents, as well as the parents of two grown children. Their Cambridge collection includes such items as cordials, anything in amethyst, and any item that happens to suit their fancy.

Marybelle served ten years as a 4-H leader, four years as Vice-President of the school Band Booster, chaired the Mothers March of Dimes for three years, and has been a member of the Athletic Boosters. She has served on the Farm Bureau Membership Committee, and is a member of the Grange. She is a member of the Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

R. CLARKE WEST: Clarke became a member of N.C.C. in 1983. Along with his wife Carole, he has become an interested and active member. Clarke describes himself as having "wide experience in the cleaning of Cambridge etching plates," as he has spent many hours working on this project. He has also made many trips to Cambridge to work in the Service Building at the rear of the Museum. He promotes N.C.C. at every opportunity and has been responsible for obtaining many new members. He represents N.C.C. in their booth at many shows and flea markets during the year, by handing out membership information and selling club books with all profits going directly to the club. Most recently he has been instrumental in starting a new N.C.C. Study Group in the Dayton/Springfield, Ohio, area. He was elected Treasurer of this Study Group at their first meeting.

Born and raised in Lima, Ohio, Clarke is a graduate of Lima Central High School. He served in the U.S. Army during WWII, and was employed by the Security National Bank in Springfield, Ohio, as Assistant Cashier until his retirement several years ago. He is presently self-employed in collection work. He and Carole reside just outside Springfield, Ohio, and are the parents of four adult children and several grandchildren.

Clarke became interested in Cambridge glass with the purchase of a 3" crown tuscan Swan several years ago. His interests now include a general line of Cambridge glass, including swans, pitchers, nude stems, and unusual items of any kind.

Clarke has served eight years as Secretary of the Northridge Lions Club, and also as a Past President. Having served in the U.S. Army, he was corresponding Secretary of The American Legion Honor Society 40-8 for seven years. He is presently serving as Secretary of the Dayton, Ohio, area Heisey Study Club. His other glass club memberships include: Imperial, Tiffin, and N.D.G.A., but his primary interest lies with Cambridge.

D.P. WESTFALL: Dean has been a member and promoter of N.C.C. almost from its very beginning and is holder of membership card #270. He and his late wife, Pauline, were charter members of the Cambridge Buffs Study Group, and Dean continues this association. He was instrumental in helping this group publish their reprint of the Cambridge Nearcut catalog. He has been regular in his attendance of club activities, including Quarterly meetings; conventions, auctions, etc.

He is a self-employed businessman involved in International Trade representing American, Japanese, Chinese and Korean trading firms. He as been listed in: "Who's Who in South and Southwest" 1973-74; "Who's Who in Finance and Industry" 1975-76; and "Who's Who in World" 1978-81.

He is a member of the Bethel College Business Council; Association of Port Authority; U.S. Department of Commerce National Defense Executive Reserve. He is also a member of Westminster Presbyterian Church, Cambridge, Ohio, and an active member of Session.
