FOREWORD

FLOWERS when arranged artistically in a vase or bowl suited to their particular style furnish the most beautiful decoration possible.

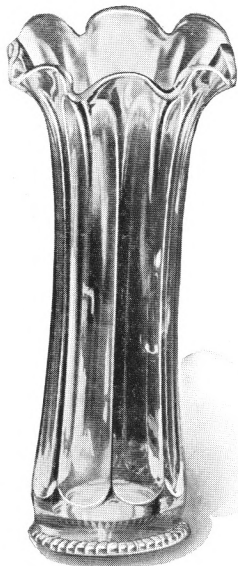

The Japanese, naturally artistic, display flowers in shallow bowls or urns by the use of heavy perforated blocks made in various forms. These are generally made of bronze or other metal.

Glass is particularly well adapted to this use on account of its weight and clear crystal quality. The Flower Blocks shown in this booklet make a secure holder and when used in combination with the Flower Bowls open an entirely new method of floral decoration.

Sturdy stemmed flowers, whose beauty is lost by crowding them into a vase, can be most artistically shown by this method. The Flower Bowl, in itself ornamental, thus reproduces the natural attitude of the flower in growth with most pleasing effect.

Other Vases or Holders shown, represent a few of the styles made by this Company. They are in great variety suited to different kinds of flowers and in themselves articles for ornament.
